Art Unit: 3651

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 5-9, 12-15 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mullis et al. (U.S. Patent 3,321,060).

Mullis et al. show a passenger conveyor system having a plurality of steps movable along a loop having a passenger side and a return side. A step chain is movable along the loop and there is at least one drive module 41 with a motor 59 that engages the step chain on only one side of the step chain loop.

Re claim 5, the drive module engages only the passenger side of the loop.

Re claim 6, see Figure 2.

Re claim 7, the drive member is a belt.

Re claim 8, official notice is given that drive belts inherently include load-bearing cords.

Re claim 9, trusses and steps are inherently made from different materials.

Re claim 12, shown is a second drive module that only engages the step chain on the passenger side.

Re claim 13, the belt is non-metallic.

Re claim 14, as per claim 9 rejection.

Re claim 15, only the passenger side is engaged.

Re claim 18, only the passenger side is engaged.

Claims 2-4, 10, 11, 16 and 17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Cited are several passenger drives which only engage one portion of a loop.
